Christmas Review 2017

Saturday 2nd December 2017, 1900hrs, Franklin Hall, Spilsby.

Dave Start began the 2017 Review with a look back at all the many events of the year. He also gave us an update on the Dexthorpe Survey including the results of the work carried out.

Denise gave her report, and we had some Christmas songs and carols sung by the lovely Kate Witney.

Pam Bankes gave a detailed update on the Boundary Project.

The cake supplied by the Firsby Artisan Bakery was a celebration of the humble mole, in homage to the work carried out sieving the molehills on the Dexthorpe Survey by Denise and Sue

There was a display of stained glass and Woolly Walls along with rag rugs and kneelers.

The highlight of the evening was a song about our “ Very model of a modern archaeologist” written by Mike Morgan, and sung by Mike and Kate to the tune of Gilbert & Sullivan in honour Dave Start. This was followed by another Mike Morgan rendition for Denise, to the tune of “Every little breeze seems to whisper Louise”

A raffle and quiz were included too. A great evening was had by one and all, and here’s to another successful year ahead.
