

SPIRIT OF SUTTERBY

The history of Lincolnshire Chairs. A Talk and Exhibition by William Sargeant.

Friday/Saturday 19th/20th May 2017 Franklin Hall Spilsby

William Sargeant, the owner and curator of the Lincolnshire Chair Museum, gave a very interesting talk on Lincolnshire Chairs and the eponymous Spilsby Chair on Friday night.

On Saturday he held an exhibition of his chairs and invited the public to bring along theirs. There was a lot of interest, and William was able to shed light on the probable date and place of manufacture of their chairs. Some of the chairs brought along caused quite a stir as they were very old and rare. I think we all learnt a great deal about local history and chair manufacture in Lincolnshire and will never look at chairs in the same light ever again! Well done William, we all had a lot of fun and enjoyed your visit very much and will update you on our chair finds?

William and Phil cutting the cake of the day

